Goals of Education

The goals of education in the Graduate School of Environmental Science are, on the basis of natural science, to promote education and research for tracking environmental processes and solving global environmental issues, and to foster researchers and professionals who cope with these issues. To achieve these aims, the Division of Earth System Science, Division of Biosphere Science, and Division of Environmental Materials Science are established for the study of these fundamental natural science disciplines, and the Division of Environmental Science Development is established to integrate these specialized fields and provide a comprehensive approach to facing environmental issues. Through study at these divisions, we aim to foster the specialized skills required to play an active role in the international community.

Admission Policy

Graduate School of Environmental Science admits students with the basic specialized knowledge in science who are interested in the global environment, the wide range of environmental problems that exist, and how to solve such global issues. Enrolling students are expected to have scientific / logical consideration and judgement abilities required for these tasks, as well as sufficient representation and communication skills to work globally. It is also expected to collaborate on their initiative with various people.

In addition, the Graduate School of Environmental Science also actively accepts working adults who wish to deepen their knowledge in environmental science while continuing to contribute to society, and foreign students who have the burning desire to study at the cutting edge of environmental science. The Graduate School of Environmental Science selects new students through the comprehensive evaluation systems using various types of selection methods, such as written examination of specialized subject, written examination in foreign language (including external English examinations), oral examination, interview and application documents.

3. How to Apply

MEXT, CSC, JICA/JDS Scholarship Students

(1) Online Registration

Access the Application Portal and register the required information. A password required to access the portal will be sent to you separately.

Application Portal Site: <https://e-apply.jp/e/hokudai-ees/>

(2) Submitting an Application

Send your application documents by mail to the “Application Mailing Address”. Please exercise caution and allow sufficient time for delivery to ensure they arrive by the application deadline. Applications arrived after the application deadline will not be accepted, even if post-marked before the deadline. Applications that fail to arrive on time or are lost due to postal issues will likewise not be considered.

(3) Completing Application Procedures

Application procedures will be considered complete only when both (1) and (2) are completed by the application deadline. Please note that even if you complete the online registration, your application will not be accepted unless your documents arrive by the submission deadline or your documents are complete.

(4) Downloading Your Admission Card for Examination

Those who have successfully completed the application through the application portal will receive an admission card for examination. Please be sure to download and print your card from the Application Portal and present it to the examiner(s) on examination day. Cards will be available for download starting 10 days before exam day.

Other (Self-supported Students)

(1) Permission to Apply

Self-supported students must contact a faculty member at the Graduate School of Environmental Science who they wish to have as their supervisor. You must obtain both informal consent to be accepted and permission to proceed with the examination application.

It is strongly recommended that you contact your prospective supervisor at least three weeks before the application period begins. When reaching out, please submit electronic copies of the following documents:

- Resume (No prescribed format)
- Research Proposal (No prescribed format)
- Copy of certificate of completion or certificate of expected completion
- Copy of academic transcript
- Copy of TOEFL, TOEIC, or IELTS score sheets (must be within 2 years of the university’s exam date)
- Copy of passport

(2) Letter of Preliminary Acceptance and Application Permission

Applicants who have received informal acceptance and been granted permission to apply will be issued a Letter of Preliminary Acceptance and Application Permission by their prospective supervisor. Please keep this document safe until the time of online registration.

(3) Online Registration

Access the Application Portal and register the required information. During registration, upload the Letter of Preliminary Acceptance and Application Permission provided by your prospective supervisor.

Application Portal Site: <https://e-apply.jp/e/hokudai-ees/>

11. Extended Enrollment

For more details, please refer to page 10.

12. Handling of Personal Information

Personal information provided in the application documents, such as name, sex, date of birth, and address, will be used for applicant selection and admission procedures. The same personal information provided in the application process will be used after admission for academic affairs (student registration, academic advising, etc.), student support services (health services, scholarship applications, etc.) and any other administrative matters related to tuition and fees. Please note that names and addresses may be used to contact individuals about the Hokkaido University Frontier Foundation and the Hokkaido University Alumni Association ELM (related organizations of the university).

Likewise, English proficiency test scores (TOEFL, TOEIC, and IELTS) of admitted applicants may be used for statistical analysis to support efforts to improve students' English proficiency. Other than the cases listed above, personal information shall not be disclosed to any other third parties.

13. Important Notes

For those who have disabilities and may require accommodations during the examination (interview) or while enrolled, please contact the Graduate School of Environmental Science prior to the application period.

<Regarding Visas and Residence Status>

International students who plan to enroll at Hokkaido University will need a student visa to enter Japan and complete their studies. Please note that it may take 3 months or more to obtain a "Certificate of Eligibility" which is required in the student visa application process. International applicants are therefore advised to plan accordingly.

(Reference) Application and Acquisition of Visa

<https://intl-student-handbook.oia.hokudai.ac.jp/preparation/visa>

<Security Export Controls>

In accordance with the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act, Hokkaido University has established the National University Corporation Hokkaido University Security Trade Control Rules. These rules ensure strict screening of exports of goods and the provision of technology (including the acceptance of individuals). Please be aware that due to these regulations, certain research topics or educational opportunities may be unavailable if they fall under a controlled category.

For details regarding specific regulations related to Security Export Controls, please refer to the website below.

《Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry (METI) website》
<https://www.meti.go.jp/policy/anpo/>

<Instruction and Research Languages at the Graduate School of Environmental Science>

Both the Master's and Doctoral programs at the Graduate School of Environmental Science offer courses and research supervision in English, with the exception of certain courses. Students can therefore obtain a degree entirely in English.

However, particularly during fieldwork or hands-on research conducted outside the university, a daily conversational level of Japanese may be required. In addition, basic Japanese language skills will also be necessary for everyday life in Japan. Regardless of their proficiency at the time of admission, international students are strongly encouraged to actively study Japanese. Those deemed to have sufficient Japanese proficiency (JLPT N2 or higher) may also take courses offered in Japanese in addition to those taught in English. Please consult with your prospective academic advisor for information on realistic expectations of Japanese language skills as it relates to your field of study.

Extended Enrollment

1. Purpose

The extended enrollment system allows students to complete programs by covering the curriculum systematically over a certain period that exceeds the standard number of years required for completion of a course of study at the Graduate School of Environmental Science if they wish to do so due to work commitments or other circumstances. Applications for extended enrollment shall be screened individually.

2. Eligibility for Extended Enrollment

Individuals eligible to apply for extended enrollment shall be those who fall under any one of the following items:

- (1) Individuals who are working full-time such as those who are employed by the government, other public offices, businesses, etc. (excluding individuals who are temporarily exempt from work assignments while receiving remuneration) or those who are self-employed.
- (2) Individuals who hold temporary or part-time jobs, etc. and whose work burden is recognized as having a significant impact on their study at the Graduate School of Environmental Science.
- (3) Individuals whose burden is parallel to that prescribed in the preceding item (2) (such as burdens arising from child rearing or nursing care for relatives, etc.) and are recognized as having a significant impact on their study at the Graduate School of Environmental Science.
- (4) Individuals with visual impairments, hearing impairments, or any other physical disabilities whose disabilities are recognized as having a significant impact on their study at the Graduate School of Environmental Science.

3. Period of Extended Enrollment

The period of extended enrollment is up to four years for Master's degree program and is available for a one-year period. The maximum period of enrollment is a period of the number of years approved for extended enrollment plus two years. All students of the Graduate School of Environmental Science may take a leave of absence for up to two years.

4. Application Procedures for Extended Enrollment

(1) Application Procedures

Those who apply for extended enrollment must submit the documents below (2) with the application documents for examination to the Academic Affairs Section, the Graduate School of Environmental Science.

(2) Application Documents

- ① Application form for extended enrollment (Form 1-1)、Statement of reasons (Form 2-1)
- ② Extended enrollment study plan (Form 3)
- ③ Documents certifying the necessity of extended enrollment

(3) Notification of results

Results of extended enrollment screening will be announced by notification sent to applicants in mid-September for October admission and mid-March for April admission.

5. Abbreviation or Extension of the Period of Extended Enrollment

The Graduate School of Environmental Science may approve the abbreviation or extension of the period of extended enrollment in the program concerned only once if it is considered necessary.

6. Tuition fee

The tuition fee for individuals who are permitted to plan and complete courses in an extended period shall be calculated by dividing the total tuition for the standard number of years required for completion of the course of study by the permitted period of extended enrollment. If the tuition amount is revised or a period of extended enrollment is shortened or extended, the tuition will be recalculated accordingly.

However, no adjustment will be made for tuition already paid to the university.

【Please DO NOT pay the tuition fee until you are approved.】

7. More Information

Please contact the Academic Affairs Section for the application forms and further details.
